

Suicide Loss Support Services

Angela Hospice provides individual and family services to anyone affected by a suicide – spouses, parents, siblings, children, or friends. The goal is to provide a safe environment where individuals will gain support and education about grief and suicide.

All services are offered free-of-charge by the clinical social workers at Angela Hospice.

Angela Hospice is a Felician-sponsored ministry

At this time, suicide is this country's tenth leading cause of death, and it is the second leading cause of death for American youth.

For every suicide, at least six family members, friends, coworkers, etc., are directly affected.
